

SOCIETY FOR THE ADVANCEMENT OF PHILOSOPHY
INSTITUTE OF PHILOSOPHY, ZAGREB

INTERNATIONAL PHILOSOPHICAL CONFERENCE

Zagreb Applied Ethics Conference 2019

Zagreb, June 26–28, 2019

PROGRAM

Venue: Klovićevi dvori Gallery
Jezuitski trg 4 · Zagreb · Croatia

Wednesday, 26 June 2019

09:30–09:40 Opening of the conference

09:40–11:00 Plenary lecture

DAVID BENATAR, University of Cape Town
The life you don't have to save

11:00–11:20 Coffee break

11:20–12:50 Session I: Saving lives and population ethics

ANDRÁS MIKLÓS, University of Rochester
The social responsibility of firms: the case of effective altruism

MICHAEL PLANT, University of Oxford
Saving lives, averting lives, and population size

DOMINIC ROSER, University of Fribourg
The ethics of discussing population size in the context of environmental policy

12:50–14:30 Lunch break

14:30–16:00 Session II: Ethics and psychiatry

MIA BITURAJAC, University of Rijeka
Are psychopaths harmed by their condition?

ALEX JAMES MILLER TATE, University of Birmingham
Interpretive injustice in psychiatry

MARKO JURJAKO, LUCA MALATESTI,
GERBEN MEYNEN, University of Rijeka / VU University Amsterdam
Insanity defence without insanity

16:00–16:20 Coffee break

16:20–17:50 Session III: Civic virtue and personal relationships

PIA ANTOLIC-PIPER, MARK PIPER, James Madison University
In praise of forbearance in the public sphere

RICCARDO SPOTORNO, Universitat Pompeu Fabra
Who should raise children? An anti-aggregative argument for licensing parents

AARON BEN-ZE'EV, University of Haifa
The paradox of self-fulfillment in romantic love

Thursday, 27 June 2019

11:00–11:30 Celebration of the Day of the Institute of Philosophy

11:30–11:45 Coffee break

11:45–12:45 Lecture

DAVID BENATAR, University of Cape Town
Forgiveness

12:45–14.30 Lunch break

14.30–16:00 Session IV: Technology and war

TOMISLAV BRACANOVIĆ, Institute of Philosophy, Zagreb
Against ethics settings of autonomous vehicles

LÁSZLÓ BERNÁTH, Eötvös Loránd University
Would it be responsible to attribute responsibility to autonomous machines?

MATEJ SUŠNIK, Institute of Philosophy, Zagreb
Intentions and collateral damage

16:00–16:20 Coffee break

16:20–17:50 Session V: Responsibility and integrity

CHRYSOULA GITSOULIS, College of Staten Island, City University of New York
Sources of unethical behavior in corporate environments

VANGELIS CHIOTIS, Glasgow Caledonian University
Self-interest and intergenerational justice

DIJANA MAGĐINSKI, Bielefeld University
Vices of virtue-based research ethics

Friday, 28 June 2019

09:30–11:00 Session VI: Procreation, death and meaning

ADRIANO MANNINO, University of Bern

Does the procreation asymmetry imply antinatalism?

BRIAN WONG, University of Oxford

Accounting for the rights of the dead using an eternalist ontology

FRIDERIK KLAMPFER, University of Maribor

Miserable, meaningless lives and unwelcome deaths

11:00–11:15 Coffee break

11:15–12:15 Session VII: Health and justice

VIRGINIA SANCHINI, ROBERTA SALA, Vita-Salute San Raffaele University

The concept of vulnerability in the ageing population:
technological innovations and ethical considerations

IVAN CEROVAC, University of Rijeka

Genetic enhancement, fair cooperation and social justice

12:15–12:30 Coffee break

12:30–13:30 Session VIII: Health, rights and autonomy

CALUM MILLER, University of Oxford

Is abortion healthcare?

PETER D. YOUNG, University of Oxford

How non-invasive prenatal testing might undermine informed consent and patient autonomy: A U.K. case study

13:30–13:40 Closing of the conference

16:00–17:30 Guided sightseeing of Zagreb for participants of the conference

20:30 Conference dinner